Ashville Burglary Suspect Captured

A 22-year-old Hebron man is being questioned here today in connection with the February 3 burglary spree which hit Ashville and surrounding area.

The suspect was returned here after being apprehended in London, following a Madison County manhunt.

A 1960 model car, taken from the Heywood - Mercer Agency on February 3, was spotted early today in Madison County by the State Highway Patrol which gave immediate pursuit.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said the car crashed into a bridge during the chase. He said the driver made a getaway on foot.

Night Jailer Marion Hoover heard details of the pursuit on his radio here at about 3 a. m. today. His request for further information led to positive identification of the Heywood - Mercer auto.

SHERIFF Radcliff and Deputies Charles Felkey, Dwight Radcliff and Robert Hoover made a quick trip to Madison County to join in a search for the vanished driver of the stolen car.

State Highway Patrolmen spotted the car on Route 323 and chased it to a point between Sedalia and South Solon in Madison County. Deputy Hoover said the auto crashed into a bridge on a curve. The driver was able to get away before patrolmen reached the crash scene.

The local lawmen joined state patrolmen, deputies from Madison and Fayette Counties and policemen from Mt. Sterling to comb the entire area.

At 9:20 a. m. deputies radioed here that the search had covered a wide area extending five miles with no trace of the driver. Deputy Radcliff traveled on to nearby Springfield in search of additional clues.

According to a radio message, license plates on the car were not the original tags. It was not disclosed whether or not the changed tags had been identified.

State Highway Patrol reports indicated that only the driver was in the stolen auto. One set of footprints at the scene gave further confirmation to this report.

The Heywood - Mercer Agency was one of 11 Ashville firms entered in the February spree.

Deputy Felkey played the role of bloodhound. He followed footprints in the snow for about five miles over hills and fields.

Felkey said he occasionally lost the footprints at clear spots, but always managed to pick them up again. The trail finally ended on a county road which would have permitted the fugitive to reach either London or Springfield.

The suspect was apprehended by London Police. He told officers that he was hitchhiking back to Columbus. According to his story, he said he had started for West Virginia, but had changed his mind.

London Police immediately notified Sheriff Radcliff who traveled there to take the man in custody.

4 Physicians To Give Queen Final Checkup

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's four doctors today were expected to give their royal patient a final examination before the birth of her third child.

It has been a week since the doctors visited the 33-year-old Queen at Buckingham Palace.

Since then she has taken a daily walk with her dogs through the wintery palace gardens, signed state papers and dealt with personal mail.

"The Queen is extremely well and leading a normal but quiet life," a palace spokesman reported Monday night.

Her physicians — Lord Evans, Sir John Weir, John H. Peel and Vernon Hall — have been on a standby alert since Monday.

They were expected to advise the monarch today to move down from her apartments to the palace's Belgian suite, where the baby is to be born. Then it will be up to Sister Helen Rowe, the Queen's maternity nurse, to recall them when the birth is imminent.

That could be anytime this week, even as late as Saturday, according to the palace.

Security measures were tightened at the palace.

You Think You Have Troubles?

Johnson's wife, Esther, was in Oneida County Hospital for an operation. The couple's three-year-old daughter was a patient in the same hospital for a skin disease. Johnson Monday attended his father's funeral.

Inspector Gives Data on Train Wreck

Brakes Working OK In Wellington Crash, PUCO Official Finds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The brakes were apparently working on the New York Central train involved in a derailment at Wellington Jan. 10, a Utilities Commission inspector has reported. Four persons died in the wreck.

In a report released by the commission today, Victor Vasvari of Struthers, a railroad inspector, said a buildup of metal was noted on the wheels of seven cars of the train.

Charles A. Hamman, chief of the commission's Railroad Department, said air is released from reservoirs under railroad cars to slow or stop a train. When all or most of the air is released, as in a sudden stop, a piston in the reservoir activates a rod which forces a bakeshoe against the wheel.

If there is abnormal pressure, he added, the wheel is scarred, and the metal buildup occurs. "It appears as though any statements concerning the lack of air in train No. 312 can be discounted."

Officials quoted the train's engineers, Henry Kerstein, 63, of Cleveland, as saying he had difficulty in building up air pressure after taking over the run at Belle fountain. And Capt. George P. Roicz of the Lorain County sheriff's office said at the time that the engineer indicated the air brakes might have been only partially working.

The Utilities Commission emphasized that this is the report of only one inspector, and that is waiting for the transcript of hearings conducted last week in Cleveland by the New York Central system. Hamman, Vasvari, inspector Eli Magovich, and an assistant attorney general, then will prepare recommendations for the commission.

However, Hamman has said that there is little the commission can do if human error is involved. He said the commission can require changes in practice, or mechanical operation, if the fault is found to lie in those areas.

The Utilities Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission both are looking into the matter.

The St. Louis-to-Cleveland passenger train piled up near Wellington on a Sunday night. Its fireman was one of the four killed. Forty-five others were injured. The Lorain County Prosecutor, Paul Mikus, has said he will request the commission to conduct a public hearing on the wreck.

But commission officials said today that they have not received any formal request for such a hearing.

New Reserve Center At Marion Is Sought
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to permit it to construct five Army Reserve centers, including one at Marion, Ohio, which would cost an estimated $168,000. Approval of the Senate and House appropriations committees is all that is needed to divert the money from other projects the Defense Department does not consider feasible at this time.

Dr. Victor R. Frederick, Urbana, said the country doctor can do a lot of assisting in surgery—work reserved for interns and residents in the larger hospitals.

"You'll also probably take some outside courses and develop a minor specialty like anaesthesia so you won't always have to call in a specialist," he said.

Dr. Frederick said he has faced almost every kind of case—auto accidents, farm machinery accidents, burns, poisoning, internal disorders, plenty of baby deliveries and plenty of preventive medicine. But he said, "sometimes you think that all you do is give kids shots."

He said another advantage of practicing on Main Street is the availability of outside work for extra income—school or industrial-medical jobs and insurance examinations. Like Dr. Byers, Dr. Frederick is corner of his county.

Dr. Jasper M. Hedges, Circleville, warned that when a brand-new doctor hangs his shingle in a small town, he should brace himself to receive "all the non-paying cast-off patients from all the older doctors."

"I found that during my first two years I did $500 to $750 worth of charity work a month. "But don't be alarmed. Take care of these patients as if they had a million dollars. They will say nice things about you and they

Clevelandler Says Cuyahoga Dem Boss 'Deceived' Him about Convention Role

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 63-year-old Cleveland pensioner says Ray T. Miller Sr., Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, "deceived" him into signing up as a delegate candidate to the Democratic national convention.

The pensioner, Harry A. Petrash, said he learned that Miller was using him as a "stooge" and asked that his name be withdrawn, and it apparently was.

Petrash said in a sworn affidavit released by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that Miller promised him a political job in exchange for allowing his name to be used as a delegate candidate.

Miller said he had talked with Petrash, but he termed "ridiculous" the account of their conversation given by Petrash.

He denied any attempt had been made to get Petrash to run for delegate to the convention or that any offer had been made of a job.

A Miller slate of delegate candidates is nominally pledged to Albert S. Porter, Cuyahoga County engineer, as favorite son for president. The Miller slate is opposed to a slate pledged to Gov. DiSalle for favorite son. Both slates are backing Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for president.

Although it wasn't in the affidavit, DiSalle said Petrash told him by phone that he also had been offered an all-expense-paid trip to the Democratic national convention.

The governor also mentioned that he had heard rumors of all-expense-paid convention trips being offered to two other district delegate candidates who are running in the May 3 primary election. Last week DiSalle indicated that the two were on the Miller slate.

Petrash's assertion that he was being used as a "stooge" by Miller apparently stems from the fact that one of the DiSalle slate candidates is also named Petrash. The latter is State Sen. Julius J. Petrash, a candidate in Cleveland's 21st Congressional District.

DiSalle said the two Petrashes are not related.

Miller, in fact, has three persons on his slate of delegates with identical last names to those of DiSalle pledged candidates. Miller has never commented publicly on whether this was just coincidence or done for a purpose.

The "deception" that Petrash talks about in his affidavit apparently refers to what he says was his lack of understanding what he was signing when he put his name on "at least 50" petitions in Miller's office.

Petrash's name does not appear on the Miller slate of delegates filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, indicating Petrash's name finally was withdrawn from the slate.

Tom Terrell, deputy clerk of the Board of Elections, said he remembered Petrash being in the office but "I don't remember anything about jobs being mentioned."

Council President Jack P. Russell said he was present when Petrash was there, but "I'm amazed. I never heard of any such thing. Nothing of the kind ever took place in my presence."

Solons Jockey On Civil Rights

GOP To Try Getting Its Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — With both parties jockeying for political advantage, Republicans sought today to force President Eisenhower's civil rights program out of the Democratic-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee.

This move, captained by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), was clearly marked for failure. But it promised to call at least fleeting attention to GOP support for the passage of legislation to protect the rights of minorities.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas stole the show Monday with a characteristically neat parliamentary maneuver that caught the Senate by surprise.

Johnson got unanimous approval to bring up a harmless looking bill to authorize the Stella, Mo., country school to use quarters in Ft. Crowder rent free.

Then he announced this unrelated measure would become the vehicle for civil rights amendments — a procedure necessary to raise the civil rights issue because the Judiciary Committee has not acted on a bill.

Advance speculation had centered on another House-passed bill as the vehicle. The surprise switch deprived Southern opponents of a chance to filibuster any motion to bring up a bill. Then the battle was on.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leading the Southern opposition, said he was surprised and chagrined at Johnson's choice. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), a civil rights supporter, said the maneuver smacked of subterfuge. He contended civil rights should be considered in a separate measure.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, supporting Johnson's move, said civil rights is an issue "with which we have to come to grips."

Circleville Flier Dies in Jet Crash

Navy flier Gordon N. Blake, 25, formerly of Circleville, was killed at 11 a. m. yesterday when his jet plane crashed into a residence near Moffett Field Naval Station, Mountain View, Calif.

Also killed was an immigrant housewife, decapitated as she stood at the kitchen sink.

Blake, a lieutenant junior grade, died when his attack bomber ran into mechanical trouble over a heavily populated housing development adjacent to Moffett Field. Other victim of the crash was Mrs. Margit Halmi, 44.

The plane piled into the Halmi home a few blocks from the house where the Navy flier lived with his wife, Kay.

Lt. Blake was in the landing pattern in a A4D Skyhawk Jet when he radioed the plane was experiencing severe engine vibrations.

SECONDS later, in a flaming crash, the plane hit the Halmi home. Kevin McCarthy, Woodside, Calif. insurance agent, who saw the crash, was quoted as saying:

"I saw the pilot eject himself. He got out, but fell right into the home he hit. The jet hit the front part of the roof, glanced off into a field and broke in half."

"I'm sure some of the pilot's fuel burst in the house. The house was engulfed in flames 200 feet high."

Mrs. Halmi, her husband, Dezzo,

'Responsibility' In Ads Pondered

NEW YORK (AP) — Chairman Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission said today publishers and broadcasters must share the moral responsibility for maintaining honest advertising.

If public complaints against advertising continue to mount, he indicated, the FTC might decide to take legal action against those publishing or broadcasting challenged material.

In a speech for the local chapter of the Public Relations Society of America, Kintner said advertising faces a "crisis of confidence" stemming from the rigged quiz show and payola investigations.

and two sons, George, 20, and David, 16, arrived in the United States three years ago after escaping from Communist Hungary.

Halmi was at work in the Hewlett - Packard electronics plant, Palo Alto, Calif., and her two sons were attending Mountain View High School when the crash occurred.

As Halmi surveyed the wreckage in search for his dead wife, tears streamed down his face. "In Hungary I was a freedom fighter leader," he said bitterly. "I came here but now I don't know why."

Less than a year ago, Blake had a narrow escape while on routine flight in a jet Cougar fighter. His plane's engine quit completely and he ejected at an altitude of 5,000 feet. He drifted to earth only 50 yards from the wreckage. He suffered numerous bruises. His plane was traveling 400 miles an hour at the time of ejection.

First Violence Breaks Out in Racial Dispute

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—The first outbreak of violence has been reported as the demonstrations against lunch counter segregation spread in the South.

Two weeks after the first demonstrations protesting segregated eating facilities began at nearby Greensboro, a short fist fight broke out here Monday between whites and Negroes in a milling crowd of 75 in front of a F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Police quickly subdued the participants.

Earlier, at a suburban shopping center, white boys taunted and threw snowballs at Negroes who sought to occupy seats at the lunch counter of another Woolworth store.

The Rev. Elton Cox, an official of the High Point chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told news-men Negroes would not face such embarrassment again without fighting back.

Sitdown demonstrations were reported in the Portsmouth-Newport News, Va., area Monday. Lunch counters in several North Carolina cities remained closed after demonstrations last week.

Forty-three protesting Negro students were arrested in Raleigh and charged with trespassing.

Bishop George W. Baber, president of the Council of Bishops, African Methodist Church, said in Philadelphia in front of the Liberty Bell at Independence Hall, "People want action, and loud-mouthed pronouncements no longer will suffice." He predicted Negro resistance would spread.

Detroiters Find Veep To Be Pounds Lighter

DETROIT (AP) — Detroiters saw a slenderized Vice President Richard M. Nixon Monday. He was 15 pounds lighter than during his last appearance in Michigan nearly 17 months ago.

His wife, Pat, told newsmen he lost about 15 pounds early in 1959 after "he picked up a bug of some sort" during an African tour. His health is fine, Mrs. Nixon said. It's just that he never regained those 15 pounds. She said he now weighs about 170.

Accused Prof Dies Suddenly

Wooster Instructor's Death Being Probed

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—An assistant professor of English at the College of Wooster, who had been charged with possessing obscene pictures died in Wooster Community Hospital today.

George W. Bradford, 64, a bachelor who was graduated from the college in 1921 and joined its faculty that year as an instructor in French, was admitted to the hospital about 2 p.m. Monday and died at 8:15 a.m. today.

He was in a coma and under an oxygen tent for his entire stay in the hospital, and because death occurred less than 24 hours after his admission, an autopsy is required. Dr. Lyman Adair, Wayne County coroner, said cause of death would not be listed until the autopsy.

Bradford had been free under $2,000 bond following a charge last Friday that he had possession of obscene material. Prosecutors James K. Leedy said 200 pounds of material his office considered obscene was found in a steamer trunk at the home which Bradford shared with a sister, Mrs. Leota Meyers.

The material included nude photographs, photographic materials and books. Bradford said he had been interested for years in line drawings, paintings and photography and added:

"I hope there will be no misinterpretations about this."

The case was continued by Municipal Court Judge Howard D. King to permit Bradford to obtain an attorney.

Dr. Howard Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, said Friday Bradford was relieved of his college duties at Bradford's own and voluntary request. Lowry said at the time the administration would take no further action pending outcome of the case in the courts.

Federal Jury Fails To Reach Verdict

Against Mine Union

WASHINGTON (AP) —After 16 hours of deliberation, a jury in federal district court Monday failed to agree on a verdict in a $2,700,000 suit against the United Mine Workers by the Mine Branch Coal Co. of Corning, Perry County, Ohio.

The company is suing the union for stopping work which closed the mine in June 1953. The company contends the work stoppage violated its contract with the union and forced the company to abandon the mine.

The union says the miners quit work because of unsafe conditions.

The jury was discharged by Judge Charles F. McLaughlin when the jury foreman told him there was no prospect of a verdict if the jury continued deliberation.

The coal company is owned by the family of the late Charles Margiotti, Pittsburgh attorney and one-time attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Billion More Wanted over Total for 1959

$4.1 Billion Needed To Safeguard World Against Communism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $4,175,000,000 in new foreign aid funds to safeguard the free world against the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

The mutual security program is essential to world progress in freedom, he said in a special message to Congress.

The sum, nearly billion dollars more than Congress voted last year, would be split up in this way: Two billion dollars for weapons aid to allies and $2,175,000,000 for economic and technical assistance.

In appealing to the legislators to avoid drastic cuts in the program, Eisenhower mentioned his 11-nation December goodwill tour to Asia, the Middle East and Europe.

"My recent travels impressed upon me even more strongly the fact that free men everywhere look to us, not with envy or malice but with hope and confidence that we will in the future, as in the past, be in the vanguard of those who believe in and will defend the right of the individual to enjoy the fruits of his labor in peace and in freedom," he said.

Eisenhower said that without the billions in foreign aid voted by Congress in the past 14 years, "the map of the world would be vastly different today because of communism's continuing threat."

The Soviet Union expressed an interest in measures to reduce the dangers of war during the past year, Eisenhower said.

"While its recent deportment and pronouncements suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less strained period in our relationships, the menace of Communist imperialism nevertheless still remains," he added.

The military power of the Soviet Union continues to grow. Increasingly important to free-world interests is the rate of growth of both military and economic power in Communist China.

"Evidence that this enormous bloc remains dedicated to the extension of Communist control over all people everywhere is found in Tibet, the Taiwan Straits, in Laos and along the Indian border."

Eisenhower's foreign aid message came earlier than usual this year. The shift represents an administration effort to get the program through Congress before it is caught in the pre-election jam just before summer adjournment. The figures had already come out in the President's budget message last month.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will lead a parade of administration leaders who will testify for the bill. His appearance is scheduled for Wednesday morning before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Eisenhower's foreign aid request, covering the year beginning July 1, included these three new features:

1. More economic and technical assistance for South Asia, including India and Pakistan.

2. An unspecified amount as the American contribution to a big fund the World Bank and other free countries are setting up to promote a settlement of the India-Pakistan quarrel over the waters of the Indus River basin.

3. A new special assistance fund of 20 million dollars to finance an education and training program for African areas south of the Sahara Desert.

Michigan GOP Buoyed by Nixon

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's whirlwind visit to Detroit left Michigan Republicans with new hope today they would stage a comeback election battle for some long-sought major offices.

"A great shot in the arm," said GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Nixon's one-day speech-making tour Monday of Detroit. "It was a big, big boost."

Next November, the state Republican organization will attempt to gain a U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and win a governor's election — a political battle that has not even been close since Democrat G. Mennen Williams first was elected in 1948.

Circleville Flier

According to Blake's father, Vernon, 410 Watt St., the body will be taken by train to Columbia, S. C. for burial either Sunday or Monday.

Young Blake was an outstanding Circleville High School student. He was an officer of nearly every student organization as well as a member of the high school band.

HE RECEIVED the Circleville Kiwanis Key award presented to the outstanding boy of the graduating class in 1952.

He attended the Methodist Church and was one of the first Eagle Scouts here. Blake was awarded an NROTC scholarship and attended the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C., majoring in chemical engineering.

Upon graduation from college he entered the Navy and was assigned to the Bureau of Aeronautics, Washington D. C.

Blake planned to make the Navy his career. At the time of his death, he was a member of a carrier - based low - level nuclear attack jet squadron.

This was the second saddening loss for Blake's father in recent months. Mr. Blake's wife, Mildred, died unexpectedly on Nov. 3, 1959, of a heart attack.

The elder Blake recently took a year's leave of absence from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to leave here and work in a Newark glass plant, operated by his family.

Just before his wife's death, they had moved into a new home.

Young Blake was born July 21, 1934 in Chillicothe. The family moved here Feb. 1, 1940. He married the former Caroline Kaye Richard, Columbia S. C., on July 2, 1956.

In addition to his father and wife, Blake is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles R. Leach, Rothwesten, Germany. Mrs. Leach's husband is a captain in the U. S. Army.

She is on her way home and is expected in New York, N. Y. tomorrow night. Blake's body will be taken to the Dunbar Funeral Home, 1527 Gervais St., Columbus S. C.

Three months later the Army sent a bill for $1,550 and said the rental for a year would be $6,200. This was hardly nominal for a school district struggling to raise $155,000 for a new building.

The school board didn't pay the $1,550 and it hasn't gotten any duns from the Army since it appealed to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), Rep. Charles Brown (D-Mo) and Dewey Short, long-time Republican congressman who became an assistant secretary of the Army after Brown defeated him in 1956.

The Missourians in Congress introduced bills to excuse Stella from paying the rental. Brown's version passed the House. This was the bill that Majority Leader Johnson trotted out Monday for the purpose of grafting on civil rights amendments.

Missouri Town Now Wants A Revised School Aid Bill

STELLA, Mo. (AP) — The people of Stella would like a new school bill, if you please, now that Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) has adopted the original as a vehicle for civil rights skirmishing in the Senate.

"Chances are the present one is going to be delayed a long time," said Mayor Orville Pogue. "I think it would be best to introduce another bill now."

He spoke for a town of 177 in the southwest corner of Missouri. A flash fire destroyed Stella's school Jan. 15, 1959.

At Ft. Crowder, an inactive Army base nine miles away, the Army said it would be glad to rent the Stella school board a three-story brick officers club. The charge, of course, would be nominal.

Three months later the Army sent a bill for $1,550 and said the rental for a year would be $6,200. This was hardly nominal for a school district struggling to raise $155,000 for a new building.

The school board didn't pay the $1,550 and it hasn't gotten any duns from the Army since it appealed to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), Rep. Charles Brown (D-Mo) and Dewey Short, long-time Republican congressman who became an assistant secretary of the Army after Brown defeated him in 1956.

Hearings on Master Plan Legislation Due March 1

First two pieces of legislation needed to implement a Master Plan for Circleville will be the subject of public hearings March 1.

City Council will conduct a hearing on proposed subdivision regulations, and the City Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a hearing on a main thoroughfare plan.

The hearings will be conducted simultaneously at 8:30 p. m. March 1.

The Master Plan was conceived by the City Design Class at Miami University under the direction of internationally famous Prof. Rudolph Frankel. It consists of a plan for growth for the city and surrounding area.

Four different pieces of legislation are needed to make the plan operative. They are subdivision regulations, thoroughfare plan, zoning ordinance and building code.

THE PLAN was fostered here by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce which has spent nearly $3,000 for the work.

The March 1 meeting is important in that City Council will hear all opinions on subdivision regulations before deciding on passage. Little objection is anticipated, since subdividers have indicated they favor such an ordinance.

The thoroughfare plan hearing will give citizens an opportunity to

Circleville Flier

According to Blake's father, Vernon, 410 Watt St., the body will be taken by train to Columbia, S. C. for burial either Sunday or Monday.

Young Blake was an outstanding Circleville High School student. He was an officer of nearly every student organization as well as a member of the high school band.

HE RECEIVED the Circleville Kiwanis Key award presented to the outstanding boy of the graduating class in 1952.

He attended the Methodist Church and was one of the first Eagle Scouts here. Blake was awarded an NROTC scholarship and attended the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C., majoring in chemical engineering. Upon graduation from college he entered the Navy and was assigned to the Bureau of Aeronautics, Washington D. C.

Blake planned to make the Navy his career. At the time of his death, he was a member of a carrier-based low-level nuclear attack jet squadron.

This was the second saddening loss for Blake's father in recent months. Mr. Blake's wife, Mildred, died unexpectedly on Nov. 3, 1959, of a heart attack.

The elder Blake recently took a year's leave of absence from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to leave here and work in a Newark glass plant, operated by his family.

Just before his wife's death, they had moved into a new home.

Young Blake was born July 21, 1934 in Chillicothe. The family moved here Feb. 1, 1940. He married the former Caroline Kaye Richard, Columbia S. C., on July 2, 1956.

In addition to his father and wife, Blake is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles R. Leach, Rothwesten, Germany. Mrs. Leach's husband is a captain in the U. S. Army.

She is on her way home and is expected in New York, N. Y. tomorrow night. Blake's body will be taken to the Dunbar Funeral Home, 1527 Gervais St., Columbia S. C.

Speed Heads

Court List

Exceeding the speed limit headed traffic cases handled in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday and today.

Drivers cited by the State Highway Patrol were:

Elmer Hammond, 36, Grove City; $25 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Elizabeth M. Johnson, 60, Chillicothe; $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour.

Colonel Hammond Jr., 37, Route 1, South Bloomingville; $15 and costs for speeding at 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Gloria Thies, 35, Westerville; $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour.

George Balint, Route 1, Lockbourne, was cited by the sheriff's department for parking within 30 feet of a stop sign. He was fined $15 and costs.

George Lee, Route 3, Circleville was arrested by city police for reckless operation. He was fined $35 and costs.

Timmons Named
CD Director

Harry Timmons, Starkey Drive, has been appointed civil defense director for Circleville.

Timmons said he will head civil defense operations in Circleville. Bernard Tait will remain as CD director in the county.

According to Timmons, his appointment came through Col. Paul Lindmore of the State Civil Defense office at Ft. Hayes, Columbus.

The city director will maintain his office on the second floor of the Memorial Hall.

Commissioners
OK Transfer

The Pickaway County Commissioners recently approved one transfer and a $35 bill incurred by the County Common Pleas Court.

A transfer of $25 from the unanticipated emergencies and contingencies to Bureau of Inspection-examiners, was approved.

A bill incurred by the Common Pleas Court, other expenses fund, also was approved.

Missouri Town Now Wants

A Revised School Aid Bill

STELLA, Mo. (AP) — The people of Stella would like a new school bill, if you please, now that Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) has adopted the original as a vehicle for civil rights skirmishing in the Senate.

"Chances are the present one is going to be delayed a long time," said Mayor Orville Pogue. "I think it would be best to introduce another bill now."

He spoke for a town of 177 in the southwest corner of Missouri.

A flash fire destroyed Stella's school Jan. 15, 1959.

At Ft. Crowder, an inactive Army base nine miles away, the Army said it would be glad to rent the Stella school board a three-story brick officers club. The charge, of course, would be nominal.

Three months later the Army sent a bill for $1,550 and said the rental for a year would be $6,200.

This was hardly nominal for a school district struggling to raise $155,000 for a new building.

The school board didn't pay the $1,550 and it hasn't gotten any duns from the Army since it appealed to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), Rep. Charles Brown (D-Mo) and Dewey Short, long-time Republican congressman who became an assistant secretary of the Army after Brown defeated him in 1956.

The Missourians in Congress introduced bills to excuse Stella from paying the rental. Brown's version passed the House. This was the bill that Majority Leader Johnson trotted out Monday for the purpose of grafting on civil rights amendments.

Is this all right with Stella? "We are only concerned with the matter of the rent money which the Army says we owe," said Don Parsons, superintendent of schools.

There are no Negro pupils in the Stella school district and Stella was too preoccupied with its building emergency to think much about civil rights and the U. S. Senate until Monday.

It was preoccupied Monday, too. It was the first day for 357 pupils, grades six through twelve, in the brand new Stella school.

Stock Mart
Prices Show
New Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slid downward moderately early this afternoon with pressure on automotive issues.

Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by most key stocks.

American Motors, down more than 2, was in a continuing downward trend.

The market was lower at the start and cut its losses toward the end of the first hour. But there was no follow through to the rallying trend and prices softened again.

Most steels, nonferrous metals, rails, oils, airlines and electrical equipments also declined.

A new stiffening in short term borrowing costs for the U. S. Treasury reversed a trend toward slackening rates. The reduction in auto output continued as a depressing factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .60 to 214.40 with the industrials down .80, the rails down 1.10 and the utilities down 1.00.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed.

U. S. government bonds were steady in slow transactions over the counter.

Hearings on Master Plan

Legislation Due March 1

First two pieces of legislation needed to implement a Master Plan for Circleville will be the subject of public hearings March 1.

City Council will conduct a hearing on proposed subdivision regulations, and the City Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a hearing on a main thoroughfare plan.

The hearings will be conducted simultaneously at 8:30 p. m. March 1.

The Master Plan was conceived by the City Design Class at Miami University under the direction of internationally famous Prof. Rudolph Frankel. It consists of a plan for growth for the city and surrounding area.

Four different pieces of legislation are needed to make the plan operative. They are subdivision regulations, thoroughfare plan, zoning ordinance and building code.

THE PLAN was fostered here by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce which has spent nearly $3,000 for the work.

The March 1 meeting is important in that City Council will hear all opinions on subdivision regulations before deciding on passage. Little objection is anticipated, since subdivisions have indicated they favor such an ordinance.

The thoroughfare plan hearing will give citizens an opportunity to express themselves on where future streets will be placed. It is pointed out that adoption of the plan does not mean any changes in present street layout is planned within the next few years. Changes in thoroughfare layout will be made only when it is practical to do so.

Both items are designed to give the general public protection and city officials a guide by which to make decisions regarding future expansion.

Automotive
Sales Rise
In January

A total of 120 new motor vehicles were sold to Pickaway County residents during January, according to County Clerk of Court's title department officials today.

This is the largest number of new vehicles sold since last October when 121 motor vehicles were sold. The figure was 37 more vehicles sold than in December, 1959 when 83 cars were marketed.

Of this total were 88 cars, 10 station wagons, 16 trucks, five house trailers, one semi-trailer and one motorcycle.

A total of 815 motor vehicles, both new and used, changed hands during January, 77 more than in December.

Chessman Bids
Again to U.S.
High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's fight for life shifted today to Washington, D.C., and the U. S. Supreme Court.

With Chessman scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber at 10 a. m. Friday, Sacramento attorney Rosalie Asher was in the nation's capital seeking a Supreme Court justice to ask for a writ of review and permission to file an original writ of habeas corpus. Both would carry requests for a stay of execution, said Chessman's other attorney, George T. Davis. The high court is in recess until March 1.

The 38-year-old convict-author, convicted in Los Angeles in 1946 of robbery and kidnap charges involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has had seven stays of execution in his 11½ year battle waged from death row.

He lost another appeal Monday when a three-man panel of the U. S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals refused him a stay of execution and upheld its chief justice's earlier ruling refusing him a certificate of probable cause for appeal.

"It is only when men begin to worship that they begin to grow," said Calvin Coolidge in 1922.

Political Mistakes Costly

Once again the General Accounting Office has pinpointed the waste by which the federal budget is inflated by citing specific examples of mismanagement which through the years has added uncounted billions of dollars to the national debt. This time it was a United States military assistance depot in Tokorozawa, Japan, and the waste involved $60 million.

In a report covering a 1958 probe of the Army depot, the GAO outlined a $55 million order for a four-year supply of tires for the installation; although there was no room to store them; a backlog of 2,000 purchase requisitions which were being held awaiting funds, although the requirements on many of the orders had changed since they were written; an additional $1.7 million of purchase requisitions outstanding in excess of requirements; several hundred Army vehicles stored at the base which were needed elsewhere, and large quantities of repairable tires which were being stockpiled while new ones were ordered to replace them.

It is the usual sorry story of poor record keeping, an apparent disregard for funds except when it came to preparing requests for additional money; no attempt to appraise the need for materiel requisitioned, and not even sufficient foresight to determine whether there is room to store the goods on order. This in not a rare occurrence. The files of the GAO bulge with similar reports concerning government activities all over the world.

Significantly, although the GAO reported a followup investigation indicated the Army had moved rapidly to correct the abuses at the Japan depot, there is still a need "for a continuing effort to completely overcome the reported deficiencies." This has been true for years in the overall operation of the sprawling federal government.

Important as are the discoveries of the General Accounting Office and other agencies which from time to time audit the nation's books, reliance upon an occasional hit-or-miss investigation to correct mismanagement abuses has been expensive. Effective control of expenditures must be applied constantly from within an organization, and this is one of the major duties of any management team. Industry and private business learned this lesson centuries ago, or they found themselves failing.

There is no closing a government's pocketbook because of failure. The purse holders merely extract more from citizens to make up for their mistakes. It is time public officials became responsible for their acts. They have enjoyed the sanctity of anonymity long enough.

How To Shock a College Dean

By Hal Boyle

SEW YORK (AP)—So you're graduating from high school this year, and you're already worried about whether you'll be able to get into the college of your choice?

Hundreds of thousands of boys have this problem.

College heads now can hand-pick their students. How can you be sure you'll be among the chosen, particularly if your marks aren't too high?

Well, if old-fashioned elbow grease won't do it, use a little of the right kind of soft soap. Do a selling job.

Your big hurdle is the dean of admissions. Once you're past him, you're usually in. So he's the one you have to snow-job. But how do you snow-job a college dean?

By being different. In age of dull conformity, colleges like to brag about turning out individual individuals—whether they really do or not.

Deans of admission get weary of interviewing day after day clear-eyed, apple-cheeked young applicants from happy, unbroken homes—the wholesome kids who look like the boy next door in the magazine ads. Too many of them grow up and become trustees.

An alert dean wants the shock of something new that will add a quaint touch to the campus as proof that his college still has room for the arty iconoclast, the unfettered dreamer, the incipient Van Gogh.

So don't wear your neat high school graduation suit to the interview. Slouch into his office in a beret, paint-stained jeans, an old Army fatigue jacket, and sockless sandals.

You should be carrying a coffee-stained volume of T. S. Eliot's "Ash Wednesday," a slide rule, and an album of Bach's fugues.

"I see you're interested in mathematics," says the dean, eyeing your slide rule.

"I despise mathematics," you reply. "It is the last refuge of orthodoxy. Euclid was nothing but a self-righteous dogmatist."

"I use the slide rule to compose my sonnets—in fourth dimensional verse, of course."

These offhand remarks should wipe out any prejudice on the part of the dean against your low grades in high school. The flame of your genius in his eyes will rise above the ashes of your past report cards.

But he has that final question with which he traps most candidates.

"Why did you pick this college?" he asks.

"Because I am a free spirit," you answer, putting your hand on your heart. "I want to fly, to soar. And this college is to me what that lonely North Carolina sand dune was to the Wright brothers—a Kitty Hawk of the mind."

You have him now. The dean is in tears. He not only wants you in his college. He offers you a scholarship in any field you choose—from archery to Zen Buddhism.

If this act doesn't get you into the university, nothing will. Maybe you'd better try the nearest barber college.

TV Must Be Made Good

By George Sokolsky

Gerald Beadle, Director of BBC Television Broadcasting, the official radio and television organization of Great Britain, made an important point in a recent address before a private group in New York. He said:

"Next to the home and school I believe television to have a more profound influence on the human race than any other medium of communication. It deserves to be taken very seriously indeed."

"Our Western civilization is not the only one on this planet. Civilizations grow and prosper by making themselves attractive spiritually as well as materially. I use the word spiritual to include everything appealing to the intellect, the conscience, the sense of beauty and the humor of man."

"If television lives up to this broad and high ideal it will prosper and posterity will bless it. If it does not, posterity will curse the BBC for ever having started it."

Television brings into the home the products of civilization, culture, refinement, education, vulgarity, murder, brutal ugliness, lies, deceit anything that is put on it. The importance is that television brings whatever it does into the home and therefore is either a moral or an immoral force.

It either builds our civilization or it tears it down. The smallest children gather about it and learn from it; oldsters and shut-ins find solace and relief from boredom in its programs.

Hitler built a career on the radio; Roosevelt reached the hearts of millions by a radio voice which fitted the instrument perfectly. He was four times elected to the Presidency—the only man in that office to reach the whole people of this country simultaneously. Radio and television are a political power beyond the conception of their founders. These instruments can be used as effectively for evil as for good. These are political and social instruments.

It is impossible to believe that children are not influenced by the constant knifings and killings on television. It is experience that children turn their faces from their books, from their homework, to watch the exciting moment when the hero kills the villain, six times a week, always at the same moment until it becomes a narcotic. Similarly the wise-cracking comedian's vulgarities can become a fashion.

Television programming in this country suffers not from commercialism but from the lack of imagination and responsibility. It drifts into patterns which seem successful.

When the Quiz Shows were successful, they multiplied until they became a bore. They were a bore before they were exposed as crooked.

Now we are going through two phases, one of which is already becoming tiresome, the grown-up Western, and the other being an outrageous and vicious abuse of a public utility, by constant exposure of the violent murder story, each including the most brutal type of fighting with not a modicum of sportsmanship. The effect on children and on adults with child-like minds is particularly evil and must have a direct relationship to the increase in crime in this country.

The question does arise as to what the television can provide over the many hours of the day that its management use these instruments. That is management's problem and lazy men can find easy solutions to difficult problems—solutions which have gotten their industry into the troubles they now face. Programming is frightfully difficult.

Television can only be supported by advertising or by payment by the viewer. Both methods ought to be used. If the viewer has pay television in his home, he can select his program carefully, omit disturbing advertising and distressing theme music, and pay for only what pleases him.

When this instrument is used exclusively to push commercials, the tendency is to grab at almost anything that will attract attention to the commercial, even a man stabbing another man or throwing a knife at a woman. Commercials blossom on some shows like the weeds they are and the Federal Trade Commission has, at long last, discovered that it has a duty to perform.

Government commissions only too often do their jobs after it is too late to mean much, but taking the less tar hoax out of cigarette advertising is worth something even if it does not eliminate those programs which have excessive commercials.

The answer may have to be government moral censorship, which could be very bad, or pay television which many viewers dislike. Whichever it is, television will be made decent.

Federal Jury Studies Hoffa Land Deals

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A special federal grand jury Monday began investigating the real estate dealings of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

E. Coleman Madsen of Miami, U.S. district attorney, said the inquiry will probably last about 60 days.

The Justice Department in Washington assigned three criminal division attorneys to work with the grand jury.

Hoffa is scheduled for trial in Washington Feb. 23 on charges he used union money to finance the Florida real estate deal.

Monitors appointed by a federal court to press for a cleanup of Teamsters affairs brought the charges against Hoffa.

Hoffa has been accused of misusing some $600,000 belonging to the Detroit Teamsters Local by depositing the money without interest in various banks in Florida, Cincinnati and New York, including about $400,000 in the Florida National Bank at Orlando. The money was deposited in 1956 as collateral for loans the Florida bank was making to Sun Valley Co.

Hoffa sold a purchase option on the development in 1958. He has denied any wrongdoing.

AN INQUIRING student visited old Farmer Abernathy one evening. "Tell me, Mr. Abernathy," he suggested, "how can a farmer manage to save a million dollars?"

"It's a long story," said Mr. Abernathy, "and while I'm telling it we don't need these electric lights. The moon is very bright tonight." He switched off the lights.

"Thank you, Mr. Abernathy," said the student, reaching for his hat. "You needn't go on. I understand."

When To Keep Junior Home

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Parents have school-related problems, too.

The biggest question probably is when to keep a youngster home from class because of a suspected illness.

Now that a new semester has begun and many children have entered school for the first time, I think we could very profitably discuss this matter.

The best answer to the question, of course, is to keep your child home whenever you are in doubt about his health, at least until you find out what is causing the trouble.

But I know you want a better guide than a mere blanket statement such as this.

So, in general, I recommend that any child showing any of the following symptoms should be kept out of school until the condition is cleared by the doctor.

If a child vomits, or shows any other signs of general illness, keep him home by all means.

If he coughs severely or persistently, keep him home and call the doctor.

Any general signs of weakness, listlessness or drowsiness are indications that something might be wrong and he should be kept home under a watchful eye.

If the youngster has a headache, or if his skin is flushed, keep him home.

Doctors believe that any child who complains of a sore throat or an earache should not be allowed to go to school until the trouble has been diagnosed and remedied.

One note of caution about this: many youngsters won't complain of such ailments and it is up to you, as parents, to watch for tell-tale signals that something is bothering them.

If the child has swollen neck glands, keep him home and seek advice from your doctor.

A rash or skin eruption is a signal to do the same thing.

A discharging nose is another sign to keep the youngster home and our contact with other children.

And, of course, an acute cold should confine any child to his home until it is over.

Question and Answer

Mrs. C. B.: Could you tell me what causes black and blue marks of various sizes on the upper arms and legs?

They are not bruises and are not sore.

Answer: Black and blue marks are due to rupture of a blood vessel and hemorrhage under the skin.

A number of blood and blood vessel disturbances can do this, as well as some medicines and allergy.

A complete examination, including a blood examination, is in order.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—One thing we don't know about the present quiet relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union is whether it's the result of an accident of history—the personalities of two men at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev both came to power when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, because of Korea, were at their lowest point since World War II.

President Truman and Joseph Stalin had been the leaders during a period after World War II in which relationships between the two nations steadily got worse.

Truman, who met Stalin only once at the end of the European war, left office in 1953 just a few weeks before the old dictator died. By then both men had become harsh antagonists.

Eisenhower, succeeding Truman, was more restrained. Khrushchev, moving up steadily after Stalin's death, sought to establish a new relationship with the West by denouncing Stalin.

Thus the air was cleared for a fresh start. Still, it probably never would have been possible except that the personalities of the two men had something in common.

Both talked peace and good will. Both have outgoing personalities, quick to laugh or grin. The bubbly Khrushchev is even more the outgoing type than Eisenhower.

It's hard to imagine anything like the present period of calm, and hope that things may get better, if the sullen, suspicious, introverted Stalin had been the Soviet leader facing Eisenhower these past seven years.

It is quite possible the outspoken Truman, who believed in the stern fist, wouldn't have gotten along with Khrushchev who can snarl and threaten when he thinks it's necessary.

No matter what the Soviets have said about American foreign policy and tactics since Eisenhower took office seven years ago they have been careful to avoid potshots at him.

Eisenhower doesn't take any needless digs at Khrushchev. If they had ever let personal hostility develop almost certainly there would have been no Khrushchev visit or a summit meeting arranged.

But Eisenhower is moving toward the end of his presidency, with less than a year to go. Khrushchev is no chicken any more. In a few years he'll be off the scene.

Then what happens? It isn't pleasant to think what may happen if a Soviet leader with the sour antagonism and violence of Stalin or the hardnosed attitude of Molotov moves into Khrushchev's place.

By the same token a President who let temper get the best of him might turn Khrushchev or his successor into a bull.

Grandmother Gets 60-Day Sentence

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 57-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Anna Yappel of nearby West Richfield, was sentenced to 60 days in jail in the traffic death last October of Gary Zacher, 15, also of West Richfield.

Withdrawal of driving rights during a five-year probationary period was part of the sentence by Common Pleas Judge Ray B. Watters. Mrs. Yappel pleaded guilty last week to a charge of second-degree manslaughter, testifying that at the time of the accident she became frightened and fled from the scene. She later reported the mishap to police.

RICHARD MONROE SMITH

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this paper is running descriptive articles on the criminals wanted by the FBI.)

RICHARD MONROE SMITH is being sought by the FBI for interstate transportation of stolen property. Described by the FBI as a slick, fast-moving confidence man, Smith is allegedly the operator of a horserace swindle by which he has defrauded unsuspecting victims of large amounts of money, in some cases their entire life savings.

The wanted man, known as F. D. Anderson, Jack C. Campbell, R. J. Colby, Carl John Kneuf, Frank C. Rodgers and J. W. Schroeder, claims to have been employed as an apartment house manager, baker, cook, interior decorator and salesman.

A Federal warrant was issued for Smith on Oct. 5, 1959, at Memphis, Tenn., for conspiracy, interstate transportation of stolen property and use of interstate communications in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. He has been previously convicted for operating a confidence game, armed robbery, using the mails to defraud and conspiracy to transport stolen property interstate. He has used firearms in an armed robbery and should therefore be considered armed and dangerous.

If a child vomits, or shows any other signs of general illness, keep him home by all means.

If he coughs severely or persistently, keep him home and call the doctor.

Any general signs of weakness, listlessness or drowsiness are indications that something might be wrong and he should be kept home under a watchful eye.

If the youngster has a headache, or if his skin is flushed, keep him home.

Doctors believe that any child who complains of a sore throat or an earache should not be allowed to go to school until the trouble has been diagnosed and remedied.

One note of caution about this: many youngsters won't complain of such ailments and it is up to you, as parents, to watch for tell-tale signals that something is bothering them.

If the child has swollen neck glands, keep him home and seek advice from your doctor.

A rash or skin eruption is a signal to do the same thing.

A discharging nose is another sign to keep the youngster home and our contact with other children.

And, of course, an acute cold should confine any child to his home until it is over.

Question and Answer Mrs. C. B.: Could you tell me what causes black and blue marks of various sizes on the upper arms and legs?

They are not bruises and are not sore.

Answer: Black and blue marks are due to rupture of a blood vessel and hemorrhage under the skin.

A number of blood and blood vessel disturbances can do this, as well as some medicines and allergy.

A complete examination, including a blood examination, is in order.

Soviet, U.S. Aid To Hobbyist Noted

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (AP)—Space is the hobby of Arthur Saul, 19, of New Westminster so he wrote to the Soviet Union for pictures of the far side of the moon. He also wrote to the Mount Palomar, Calif., Observatory for photographs of other astronomical bodies.

With a month he received from the Soviets three photos of the moon's other side, a letter from the astronomical council of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences and a book of information on the moon.

Then an envelop came from California.

It contained a catalogue giving the prices of various pictures and information.

A stick of charcoal and a diamond are really alike, say government chemists. Except, of course, a slight difference in price.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—One thing we don't know about the present quiet relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union is whether it's the result of an accident of history—the personalities of two men at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev both came to power when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, because of Korea, were at their lowest point since World War II.

President Truman and Joseph Stalin had been the leaders during a period after World War II in which relationships between the two nations steadily got worse.

Truman, who met Stalin only once at the end of the European war, left office in 1953 just a few weeks before the old dictator died. By then both men had become harsh antagonists.

Eisenhower, succeeding Truman, was more restrained. Khrushchev, moving up steadily after Stalin's death, sought to establish a new relationship with the West by denouncing Stalin.

Thus the air was cleared for a fresh start. Still, it probably never would have been possible except that the personalities of the two men had something in common.

Both talked peace and good will. Both have outgoing personalities, quick to laugh or grin. The bubbly Khrushchev is even more the outgoing type than Eisenhower.

It's hard to imagine anything like the present period of calm, and hope that things may get better, if the sullen, suspicious, introverted Stalin had been the Soviet leader facing Eisenhower these past seven years.

It is quite possible the outspoken Truman, who believed in the stern fist, wouldn't have gotten along with Khrushchev who can snarl and threaten when he thinks it's necessary.

No matter what the Soviets have said about American foreign policy and tactics since Eisenhower took office seven years ago they have been careful to avoid potshots at him.

Eisenhower doesn't take any needless digs at Khrushchev. If they had ever let personal hostility develop almost certainly there would have been no Khrushchev visit or a summit meeting arranged.

But Eisenhower is moving toward the end of his presidency, with less than a year to go. Khrushchev is no chicken any more. In a few years he'll be off the scene.

Then what happens? It isn't pleasant to think what may happen if a Soviet leader with the sour antagonism and violence of Stalin or the hardened attitude of Molotov moves into Khrushchev's place.

By the same token a President who let temper get the best of him might turn Khrushchev or his successor into a bull.

Grandmother Gets 60-Day Sentence

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 57-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Anna Yappel of nearby West Richfield, today was sentenced to 60 days in jail in the traffic death last October of Gary Zacher, 15, also of West Richfield.

Withdrawal of driving rights during a five-year probationary period was part of the sentence by Common Pleas Judge Ray B. Watters.

Mrs. Yappel pleaded guilty last week to a charge of second-degree manslaughter, testifying that at the time of the accident she became frightened and fled from the scene. She later reported the mishap to police.

RICHARD MONROE SMITH is being sought by the FBI for interstate transportation of stolen property. Described by the FBI as a slick, fast-moving confidence man, Smith is allegedly the operator of a horse race swindle by which he has defrauded unsuspecting victims of large amounts of money, in some cases their entire life savings.

Smith purportedly strikes up an acquaintance with his victim, and as if by chance meets a person purportedly with a foolproof system for beating the horses. The stranger permits the victim to place a bet through him and the victim's money is lost when Smith bets on the wrong horse.

The wanted man, known as F. D. Anderson, Jack C. Campbell, R. J. Colby, Carl John Kneuf, Frank C. Rodgers and J. W. Schroeder, claims to have been employed as an apartment house manager, baker, cook, interior decorator and salesman.

A federal warrant was issued for Smith on Oct. 5, 1959, at Memphis, Tenn., for conspiracy, interstate transportation of stolen property and use of interstate communications in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. He has been previously convicted for operating a confidence game, armed robbery, using the mails to defraud and conspiracy to transport stolen property interstate. He has used firearms in an armed robbery and should therefore be considered armed and dangerous.

Big Debate In Business Is over Boom

Question Now Is Whether Some of Zing Gone from Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The big debate in business circles isn't whether Jack Paar did right or was wrong. Or whether this missile or that is our best bet. It's whether some of the boom isn't going out of the boom.

Only very few optimists thought the big spurt of industrial activity after the settlement of the steel labor dispute could go on forever at that pace. But many are disturbed that its life seems to be proving so short.

There's no real slowdown yet. But the activity seems quieter than a few weeks back.

Government officials say that if this is just more than seasonal, it will prove a good thing. They always get nervous when activity seems to be moving at too fast a clip. An orderly advance is more to their liking. There's less of a letdown later.

The stock market gave the public the first inkling of what was going on. Many think that stock prices dropped because a lot of folk decided prices were too high in relation to earnings, good as some of these have been. But others think that the traders sensed a turnaround later this year in the general economy if the former pace was maintained. And none wants to see that.

Business is still humming. Steel is pouring out of the mills. Retail trade is higher than usual for this time of year. Inventories are still being built up. Companies are still talking about expansion spending.

Some companies appear to have rebuilt their stocks in jig time after the steel mills reopened.

Consumers are still buying large quantities of goods at the store. They are taking on huge totals of installment debt. But even here the rush to take on time payments isn't what it used to be some weeks back.

Spring could change the picture. It could make people want to buy new cars, new appliances. It could put a portion of the boom back into the boom.

Axle-Mile Tax Dodge Is Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy will go to Washington this week or next to try to plug a loophole by which a number of Ohio truckers have successfully dodged payment of about three million dollars in overdue axle-mile taxes.

McElroy said today he will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to withhold approval of transfers of out-of-state trucking permits whose holders owe Ohio back axle-mile taxes.

McElroy also has worked out an agreement with the Ohio Department of Taxation and the Utilities Commission to require delinquent truckers to present a tax release to Utilities Commission before approval of a permit transfer.

A number of Ohio and out-of-state truckers have delayed paying the taxes since 1955 pending outcome of a court fight testing validity of the tax. Now that this question has been settled, many of them still have not paid up. Some are seeking to sell their holdings. One Michigan company, which owes about $100,000, recently sold its operating authority.

The claims section of McElroy's office now has $834,000 in axle-mile taxes certified to it for collection.

There are about $2,250,000 more in claims now pending in the Tax Department in various hearing stages. These, McElroy said, probably can be collected under bonds posted in the appeals.

Businessmen Ponder Cuban Sugar Deal

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban businessmen wondered today how much profit there will be—if any—from Moscow's promise to buy one million tons of Cuban sugar a year.

Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, signing the five-year Soviet-Cuban trade pact here Saturday, said the Kremlin would pay no premium for the sugar.

A fifth of each year's purchase, or 200,000 tons, will be paid for in U.S. dollars at the world market price, now about 3 cents a pound. The balance will be paid for in Soviet goods, at a price to be worked out, and some other nations which have participated in such barter deals with the Soviets have complained that the Soviet goods are frequently overpriced.

There was mounting concern in some quarters over what the reaction will be in the United States, which buys half Cuba's annual sugar crop at premium prices of more than 2 cents above the world market. This amounts to an annual premium of between 150 and 180 million dollars.

Some observers predicted the new Soviet pact would prompt many U.S. congressmen to demand a change in the U.S. Sugar Act and a sharp reduction in the quota of Cuban sugar bought at more than the world price.

Ohio Solon Raps Air Force 'Waste'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Minshall (R-Ohio) accused the Air Force today of planning to waste four billion dollars.

Even if it ever does, Minshall said, the missile—the Bomarc—will soon be obsolete. Bomarcs are to defend the coast line against bombers but would be no good, he said, against attacking missiles.

The Air Force wants to station Bomarcs around the perimeter of the United States. It concedes they are not yet effective but claims intensive program now going on.

American nations that Eisenhower starts next week. This is virtually a self-sufficient country, almost as big as the United States but with one-third the population.

Eisenhower will parade into both the main cities, Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, each with a population of about three million. He will be the first U.S. president to visit Brasilia, the nation's new capital.

With only a few thousand persons now, Brasilia is expected some day to surpass half a million. President Juscelino Kubitschek got its construction started in 1956. For many years Brazilians had been planning a new capital away from crowded and often steaming Rio de Janeiro. Kubitschek finally put it over.

Brasilia is a planned city with out intersections. It has been cut out of scrubland 600 miles northwest of Rio. Its plateau location gives it an annual temperature range of 55-75.

Two dozen impressive buildings, many of 10 stories, are nearing completion. Other government buildings are to come, along with the stores and movie houses a city must have. The whole arrangement, with buildings that are architecturally akin, wide malls and planned garden areas, gives a feeling of openness and orderliness.

One of the striking buildings already completed is Kubitschek's two-story presidential palace, where Eisenhower spends next Tuesday night. The glass and whitish marble of its walls, set off by reflecting pools and modernistic statuary, are a vast change from the gingerbread-strung palaces that dominate many capitals.

NEXT: Argentina.

The youth chairman, Orban Burchwell, was in charge of the program, which consisted of musical selections, a style show, a dance number and games and dancing. Refreshments were served by the young people.

An old fashioned box social will be held at the next meeting February 18. Boxes will be auctioned at 6:30 p. m.

The Lecturer Mrs. Clyde Michel opened her program "Operation Forward" with group singing "Onward Worthy Grangers". The juveniles presented a Tom Thumb wedding and the dancing dolls, Susie and Janie Wrights and Roxann Dennis presented a tap dance with Mrs. Robert Wrights at the piano.

Mr. C. E. Dick, Mrs. Raymond Grabill, Harold Furniss, Betty Beathard and Mrs. Paul Dawson, each told why they joined the Grange. This was interesting and instructive.

7 Cleveland Persons Lose Court Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has affirmed the convictions of seven Cleveland persons on charges of conspiracy in connection with statements regarding affiliation with the Communist party.

They were fined $2,500 each and sentenced to prison for 18 months each by U.S. District Judge Paul C. Weick, Cleveland, now a member of the Sixth Circuit Court.

They are: James West, Andrew Remes, Hyman Lumer, Sam Reed, Eric Reinthaler, Marie Reed Haug and Fred Haug.

"We have examined the report and the portions excised by the trial judge and find his ruling correct," the high court said in affirming the convictions.

The seven were indicted Jan. 23, 1957, on charges of conspiracy for unlawfully making false affidavits of a "non-Communist officer" with the National Labor Relations Board. They said they were not members or affiliated with the Communist party.

A jury convicted them and sentence was passed Jan. 29, 1958. In their appeals, they contended, among other things, that the evidence charging them with conspiracy was insufficient to sustain a verdict of guilty.

It's 'Perfumed Plate' Time For 93,000 Ohio Autoists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's "perfumed plate" time for 93,000 Ohioans.

That many Buckeye motorists are reserving special 1960 auto license plates at the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and thousands of others are trying to get them.

These special combinations of letters, or letters and numerals, are known as "perfumed plates" among bureau workers who are daily being deluged with requests from Ohioans who want to join the state's "license plate peeperage."

But practically all the desirable combinations have been reserved for years. G. K. Owens of West LaFayette in Coshocton County has the "presidential plate"—IKE, one of the most frequently requested.

Joseph Baker of Ironton drives a "riot car." At least his license plate reads RIOT.

Paul F. Hundr of Dayton has PF-100, Calvin J. Yak of Cleveland has YAX, and Edward K. Kovanda of Cleveland Heights has the real "very important person" plate—VIP.

Robert First of Cleveland has 1-ST. A sexton once applied for SX-10, and an undertaker wanted DIE. A lumber company once applied for 10 plates, all dimensions of boards such as 2-X-4, 4-X-4, etc.

Thirty-one three-letter combinations are not issued because they form obscene words, and USA is withheld because it might indicate a government car.

The bureau, part of the Department of Highway Safety, receives about 500 phoned or written license requests a day this time of year. Once a plate is assigned to an individual, it is never taken away. Only a few hundred are voluntarily surrendered each year. Releases are from motorists leaving the state, or when the plate holder has died and no one else in the family wants the plate.

Applications are sent to holders each year, are filled in by regular deputy registrars and returned to the bureau. They cost $11 instead of the usual $10.

The only thing keeping anyone from getting a special plate is that someone else already has it. After 25 years of filling requests, about all of the choice combinations are gone.

"Some people value their special plates more than their wives," one bureau worker said. They're sought by all kinds of Ohioans, regardless of wealth or position, and some of the best are on old jalopies.

Laughing Death Insurance Sought

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A million-dollar insurance policy against anyone dying from laughter at what should be a very, very funny show is being sought by the chairman of the Easter seal campaign.

He said a Memphis insurance company would try to have the policy written by Lloyd's of London.

The whole arrangement, with buildings that are architecturally akin, wide malls and planned garden areas, gives a feeling of openness and orderliness.

One of the striking buildings already completed is Kubitschek's two-story presidential palace, where Eisenhower spends next Tuesday night. The glass and whitish marble of its walls, set off by reflecting pools and modernistic statuary, are a vast change from the gingerbread-strung palaces that dominate many capitals.

Pickaway Grange Report

SCIO TO GRANGE

Scioto Grange No. 2456 met February 4 with the youth of the Grange filling the chairs. During the business meeting two appeals for aid were answered and two applications for membership were read.

The Home Economics chairman Mrs. Donald Kessler reported that the pound cake contest will be held in April. The recipe to be used will be found in the January issue of the Grange monthly.

The youth chairman, Orban Burchwell, was in charge of the program, which consisted of musical selections, a style show, a dance number and games and dancing. Refreshments were served by the young people.

An old fashioned box social will be held at the next meeting February 18. Boxes will be auctioned at 6:30 p. m.

STAR GRANGE

One hundred thirty six members and guests registered at the desk and were presented with a Valentine corsage when they assembled for "Open House" at Star Grange Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium.

A covered dish supper was enjoyed by all and the worthy master Russell Shannon welcomed the group and gave several well chosen remarks.

The Lecturer Mrs. Clyde Michel opened her program "Operation Forward" with group singing "Onward Worthy Grangers". The juveniles presented a Tom Thumb wedding and the dancing dolls, Susie and Janie Wrights and Roxann Dennis presented a tap dance with Mrs. Robert Wrights at the piano.

Mr. C. E. Dick, Mrs. Raymond Grabill, Harold Furniss, Betty Beahard and Mrs. Paul Dawson, each told why they joined the Grange. This was interesting and instructive.

Lawrence Reid, past Master of Star Grange gave a review of the accomplishments of the Grange in 1959 and Mrs. Francis Furniss

Next day he will fly to Rio, where a million citizens—the Carlocas—likely will cheer him.

It is a cosmopolitan city offering wide contrasts. Squatter settlements, called favelas, dot some of its mountains. Nearby, in skyscrapers, much of the business of Brazil is done. It is a city with touches of Lisbon and Hong Kong, and perhaps a dash of New Orleans.

On his third day in Brazil Eisenhower will fly to Sao Paulo for another "Vive Ike" reception. From the airport he can see a skyline that would make any U.S. Chamber of Commerce drool. This industrial center is in the midst of a building boom. Office buildings and scores of new apartment buildings, of around 15 stories, are going up. The climate is more moderate than Rio's, and drive lead some visitors to call Sao Paulo the Chicago of Brazil.

The white collar worker in Brazil makes about $65 a month. A lot of people meet their bills by working two jobs. For the things in the stores are tempting, and today an ad invites you to fly away on a vacation abroad.

"Viaje agora... pague depois," it says.

In the years to come many Brazilians may fly now, pay later. That is, unless today's inflationary conditions bring the government to a point where it must impose some of the austerity that neighboring Argentina has put into effect.

Even if that happens, the optimistic Brazilians will make the most of it. Somebody will write a samba.

NEXT: Argentina.

7 Cleveland Persons Lose Court Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has affirmed the convictions of seven Cleveland persons on charges of conspiracy in connection with statements regarding affiliation with the Communist party.

They were fined $2,500 each and sentenced to prison for 18 months each by U.S. District Judge Paul C. Weick, Cleveland, now a member of the Sixth Circuit Court.

They are:

James West, Andrew Remes, Hyman Lumer, Sam Reed, Eric Reinthal, Marie Reed Haug and Fred Haug.

"We have examined the report and the portions excised by the trial judge and find his ruling correct," the high court said in affirming the convictions.

The seven were indicted Jan. 23, 1957, on charges of conspiracy for unlawfully making false affidavits of a "non-Communist officer" with the National Labor Relations Board. They said they were not members or affiliated with the Communist party.

A jury convicted them and sentence was passed Jan. 29, 1958. In their appeals, they contended, among other things, that the evidence charging them with conspiracy was insufficient to sustain a verdict of guilty.

It's 'Perfumed Plate' Time For 93,000 Ohio Autoists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's "perfumed plate" time for 93,000 Ohioans.

That many Buckeye motorists are reserving special 1960 auto license plates at the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and thousands of others are trying to get them.

These special combinations of letters, or letters and numerals, are known as "perfumed plates" among bureau workers who are daily being deluged with requests from Ohioans who want to join the state's "license plate peerage." But practically all the desirable combinations have been reserved for years.

G. K. Owens of West LaFayette in Coshocton County has the "presidential plate"—I-K-E, one of the most frequently requested.

Joseph Baker of Ironton drives a "riot car." At least his license plate reads R10T. Paul F. Hundert of Dayton has PF-100. Calvin J. Yak of Cleveland has YAX, and Edward K. Kovanda of Cleveland Heights has the real "very important person" plate—VIP.

Robert First of Cleveland has 1-ST. A sexton once applied for SX-10, and an undertaker wanted DIE. A lumber company once applied for 10 plates, all dimensions of boards such as 2-X-4, 4-X-4, etc.

Thirty-one three-letter combinations are not issued because they form obscene words, and USA is withheld because it might indicate a government car.

The bureau, part of the Department of Highway Safety, receives about 500 phoned or written license requests a day this time of year.

Once a plate is assigned to an individual, it is never taken away. Only a few hundred are voluntarily surrendered each year. Releases are from motorists leaving the state, or when the plate holder has died and no one else in the family wants the plate.

Applications are sent to holders each year, are filled in by regular deputy registrars and returned to the bureau. They cost $11 instead of the usual $10.

The only thing keeping anyone from getting a special plate is that someone else already has it. After 25 years of filling requests, about all of the choice combinations are gone.

"Some people value their special plates more than their wives," one bureau worker said. They're sought by all kinds of Ohioans, regardless of wealth or position, and some of the best are on old jalopies.

Dayton Rubber Co. Agreement Is Hinted

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal mediator reported a tentative agreement was reached Monday night to end a five-week-old strike against Dayton Rubber Co. here. Some 1,200 employees have been idle. United Rubber Workers Local 178 will take a ratification vote on the new contract Wednesday.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FALSETEETH, an improved powder, applied on upper and lower plates holds them firmly so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, sticky taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Causes "plate pain" (denture breath). Get FALSETEETH today at any drug store.

Laughing Death

Insurance Sought

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A million-dollar insurance policy against anyone dying from laughter at what should be a very, very funny show is being sought by the chairman of the Easter seal campaign.

William Loeb, Memphis laundryman, said "I thought I'd die laughing. Then the thought hit me—what if somebody did die laughing?"

He said a Memphis insurance company would try to have the policy written by Lloyd's of London.

Child's Illness Seen As Actual Lifesaver

CLEVELAND (AP)—A child's illness may have saved her life and those of her brother and mother. The three decided to stay with a grandmother Saturday night and were safe when a smoldering fire destroyed most of their frame home in suburban Maple Heights Sunday.

The father, Michael W. Costanzi, was in a hospital at the time of the fire. His daughter, Michelle, 6, was sick and with her mother and brother, Michael, 10, spent the night with the grandmother.

Mrs. Bob Evans Loves Her 148-Year-Old Farm Home

Mrs. Jewel Evans, wife of southern Ohio farmer, Bob Evans, has had the thrill many women dream about—modernizing a century-and-a-half-old farm house yet still retaining its natural charm. Here she sits before the original fireplace holding Bob Jr.; brother, Steve, talks to his father.

The Bob Evans Farms' homestead is located just south of Rio Grande on Route 35 leading to Gallipolis, Ohio. The attractive brick farmhouse served as a stage coach inn in the early 18 hundreds.

Jewel Evans devotes most of her time to her six children, three boys and three girls, ranging in age from one to nineteen years. Her husband, Bob Evans, thoroughly enjoys all phases of farming. More and more of his time is devoted to keeping up with the demand for Bob Evans' Farms Sausage by Ohio people who appreciate good eating.

All Bob Evans' Farms Sausage is made in the southern Ohio hills, a short distance as the crow flies from the Evans' home, or on another farm near Xenia, Ohio.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Ignore that Smear Campaign

DEAR ABBY: I am so heart-sick over what has happened to me I don't know what to do. All my friends at school (I am a sophomore in high) are telling me there is a terrible rumor going around about me. But no one will tell me what it is or who said it. How can I get to the bottom of it? Everyone says they are sworn to secrecy. What does a girl do when she has done nothing wrong but gets a bad reputation anyway?

DEAR WORRIED: People who tell you "there is a terrible rumor going around about you", but refuse to reveal what it is or who said it are not friends. Ignore the talk and hold your head high. As long as you continue to behave properly, those who took part in circulating the gossip will appear foolish.

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a wedding shower for a MAN? Well, I have just been invited to one. (I am a woman.) This fellow in our office is getting married and someone in the office dreamed up the idea of giving him a shower. They told us not to spend too much money, but to bring something sort of cute and suggestive. What should I take?

DEAR GIRL: Keep it clean and bring a bar of soap.

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything I can do about the way my daughter-in-law keeps house? She washes a cup and saucer only when they are all dirty and she needs one. I have seen her go to the kitchen sink and rinse out my son's shirt and then she spreads it out (wet) on the kitchen table over egg shells, bread crumbs and dirty dishes and presses it a bit. It makes me ill to see the way they are living.

My son wasn't raised like this, Abby. He never complains and you never hear a cross word between them. Can a man forget his early training in two years of marriage? I could go on and on, but what's the use? How can I help her?

DEAR CONCERNED: You can help her, by teaching her—if she ASKS you. Don't volunteer. If your son is happy, close your eyes and let your mouth follow suit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ENVELOPES": Don't envy her. You'd look "electrifying" too, if everything you had on was charged.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

If you want to use pumpnickel bread for rolled sandwiches, have the loaf sliced very thin. To prevent the slices from breaking, roll each one with a rolling pin before adding the filling.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Ignore that Smear Campaign

DEAR ABBY: I am so heart-sick over what has happened to me I don't know what to do. All my friends at school (I am a sophomore in high) are telling me there is a terrible rumor going around about me. But no one will tell me what it is or who said it. How can I get to the bottom of it? Everyone says they are sworn to secrecy. What does a girl do when she has done nothing wrong but gets a bad reputation anyway?

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: People who tell you "there is a terrible rumor going around about you", but refuse to reveal what it is or who said it are not friends. Ignore the talk and hold your head high. As long as you continue to behave properly, those who took part in circulating the gossip will appear foolish.

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of a wedding shower for a MAN? Well, I have just been invited to one (I am a woman). This fellow in our office is getting married and someone in the office dreamed up the idea of giving him a shower. They told us not to spend too much money, but to bring something sort of cute and suggestive. What should I take?

GIRL FRIDAY

DEAR GIRL: Keep it clean and bring a bar of soap.

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything I can do about the way my daughter-in-law keeps house? She washes a cup and saucer only when they are all dirty and she needs one. I have seen her go to the kitchen sink and rinse out my son's shirt and then she spreads it out (wet) on the kitchen table over egg shells, bread crumbs and dirty dishes and presses it a bit. It makes me ill to see the way they are living.

My son wasn't raised like this, Abby. He never complains and you never hear a cross word between them. Can a man forget his early training in two years of marriage? I could go on and on, but what's the use? How can I help her?

CONFERNED

DEAR CONFERNED: You can help her, by teaching her—if she ASKS you. Don't volunteer. If your son is happy, close your eyes and let your mouth follow suit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ENVELOPES": Don't envy her. You'd look "electrifying" too, if everything you had on was charged.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

If you want to use pumpernickel bread for rolled sandwiches, have the loaf sliced very thin. To prevent the slices from breaking, roll each one with a rolling pin before adding the filling.

Toll Is Terrific Among Top Ten Ohio Cage Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The toll was terrific in Ohio high school basketball last week as Class AA top 10 members took a beating from lower-rated foes.

The big one was the 60-59 defeat pinned on third-ranked Salem, runner-up for the 1959 state title, by Akron St. Vincent which had won only two of 15 previous starts. Salem's other loss also was a one-point, 42-41 to Youngstown East.

Sixth-ranked Lakewood was tumbled 62-57 by Lorain, seventh-place Toledo Scott was victimized 83-78 by Toledo Woodward, and tenth-ranked Portsmouth was a 66-55 victim of Hamilton Garfield.

Dayton Roosevelt's unbeaten Teddies rolled to their 17th straight win to retain the Class AA poll lead by a 113-point margin over defending state king Cleveland East Tech, with 48 sports editors voting in the weekly Associated Press poll.

East Tech, after losing its opener, ran its victory string to 15 by 60-57 over Cathedral Latin. The Scarabs, winners of 66 of their last 67, go after their third straight title—and their seventh in the last eight years—against St. Ignace (16-1). A crowd of 13,000 is expected at the Friday night classic.

The defeats had plenty of effect—some good, some bad—on the top 10 ratings. Canton Timken (17-0) moved up to third, close on East Tech's heels, as Salem skidded to seventh. Lakewood, despite the Lorain loss, moved up a notch to fifth. Toledo Woodward made its first appearance in the select list, despite a 81-73 loss to Cleveland Glenview Saturday night.

A big oddity is that Toledo Scott, beaten by Woodward Friday, lost all its first-place votes to the conquerors but wound up in an eighth-place tie with Woodward.

Newark, although a winner last week, dropped from the top 10 and Youngstown East climbed from among the also-rans into tenth. Xenia Central (15-0) made the big leap from ninth to fourth as the Greene County boys picked up support from everywhere.

Northwestern of Wayne County, the 1958 state champ, retained its top spot in the Class A rankings, with Salem Local of Urbana clinging to second.

New Boston jumped from sixth to third as Van Del dropped to seventh from the show spot. Only change in the top 10 among the smaller schools came as Stanton Local (14-4) moved into a last-place tie with unbeaten Granville. New Bremen (17-1) dropped out.

From here and there: Springfield, which started fast, is now 11-5 after beating Mansfield and losing to Troy over the weekend. Unrated Urbana won twice to make it 16-0. New Boston wound up its at-home campaign by beating Class AA Waverly 59-34—its 36th straight on the home boards dating back to 1956.

York Twp., the Sandusky County League winner, lost to Risingsun after 11 in a row. Two York regulars, center Mike Harward and forward Otis Frasure, were hurt in a Feb. 7 auto accident, the former suffering a broken leg, and they're out for the season.

Jim Wickert, Old Fort's 6-1 senior guard, came back for 13 points in the win over Bettsville as he played for the first time since a Jan. 17 emergency appendectomy. Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool junior, set a school record with 39 against Toronto Friday, and came right back for 29 against Marietta Saturday.

Cardington, undefeated in football, lost two titles last weekend. Friday the Morrow County crown went glimmering as Iberia topped Cardington 58-56, and the next night Mount Gilead's 70-42 verdict cost Cardington the Mid-Ohio League toga.

Ed DiGregorio's Youngstown East club clinched a tie for the city title by beating South, with All-Ohio football and Jim Snowden scoring 21 points and grabbing 25 rebounds. East has a 10-game streak going.

Ashville won the Pickaway County championship by beating Darby Twp. 78-72 but guards Tom Walters and Tom Liff scored 57 for the losers, Liff 29 and Walters 28.

County Eyes Baseball Loop; Six-Man Football Dropped

A Pickaway County Baseball League was established Saturday during a meeting of the County coaches and principals held in the Mecca Restaurant.

The league will be composed of eight teams. They are Walnut, Scioto, Darby, Atlanta, Monroe, Williamsport, Pickaway and Jackson.

Although Ashville will not compete in the county league, it will participate in the county tournament. The Broncos are unable to play county league ball because of a heavy schedule in the Darby Valley League.

The eight-team league must get in all its league games before April 18 when the county tournament starts. With nine teams in the tourney, the county is allotted three representatives in the district tournament.

IT WAS decided that the league winner will automatically enter the district meet. A trophy will be presented the loop victors. There will be no Saturday games.

A committee to wet up the county track meet was appointed. Robert Sanders, Salt Creek, was named chairman. Committee members are Benedict Tusia, Scioto and Vincent Mennetti, Ashville.

There will be eight schools in the track meet. They are Salt Creek, Pickaway, Walnut, Ashville, Scioto, Darby, Monroe and Williamsport.

to Darby, Monroe and Williamsport.

There was some discussion that possibly Pickaway and Salt Creek may combine their track teams into a Logan Elm squad. This is possibly under a state law that says schools may consolidate athletic teams one year prior to moving into a consolidated high school.

The track meet is tentatively scheduled for 2 p. m. on May 6 at Capital University, Columbus.

County six-man football was ruled out for next year and in all probability forever. Only three schools were left to participate — Scioto, Darby and Walnut.

PICKAWAY and Salt Creek are consolidating and plans call for 11-man reserve football next year in the high school. Stoutsville, another participant, has been consolidated with Amanda Twp. and its status is unknown.

This negative decision on six-man football rules out the entrance of Laureville into the gridiron league. The Hocking County school had sought admission.

At a recent county principal's meeting, Laureville's application for admittance into the county basketball league was refused.

But county schools were urged to fill the vacancy in their county schedule, created by the combining of Salt Creek and Pickaway, with the scheduling of Laureville.

Bearcats Keep No. 1 Rating

Best Test Coming
With March 9 Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who have been rated the nation's top college basketball team since the start of the season, may have to wait until March 9 to prove it for the mythical national championship.

That's the date of the projected title playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title and an NCAA tournament berth. At present, both Cincy and second-ranked Bradley, are tied for first place and there doesn't seem to be anyone in the Mo Valley capable of displacing them.

Sportswriters and broadcasters will vote in the Associated Press poll giving Cincy 79 first place votes after the 'Cats used a tremendous 11-point surge in the final five minutes last Friday night to get by St. Louis, 61-58. Bradley received only 21, after beating Drake 68-63 Saturday night, and Houston earlier in the week.

Walters drove and jumped for 28 points against Ashville Friday to increase his average 0.3 of a point to 23.4 but to no avail. Third place went to Ashville's Bobby Hoover with a 20.9 average. The

Deadeye Trio Powers OSU Toward Crown

Buckeyes Hand Illini 109-81 Rout, May Win U.S. Championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired to its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an over-all 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5). It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini a Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indiana, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

Colorado and Kansas State, in a pair of squeakers, remained tied for the Big Eight Conference lead, Auburn stayed on Georgia Tech's heels in the torrid Southeastern Conference race, and Ohio U. whipped Toledo 71-67 to take undisputed first place in the Mid-American loop in other key Monday games.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for a 15-5 record by pasting CCNY 93-67, and Xavier of Ohio (16-6), with an outside tournament chance, eufied Marquette 79-75 in important non-conference play.

Colorado nipped Missouri 63-62 for a 7-2 Big Eight record matching Kansas State, which edged Iowa State 72-70 on Wally Frank's basket with 25 seconds left. Kansas stayed in Big Eight contention, rolling to a 6-3 record as Wayne Hightower's free-throw after the final buzzer gave the Jayhawks' a 54-53 victory over Oklahoma.

Auburn edged Tulane in overtime 53-51 for a 9-2 SEC record to 9-1 for idle Georgia Tech, while Mississippi State downed Florida 81-75, LSU spilled Alabama 66-53, and Mississippi nipped Georgia 65-63 in overtime in other SEC games.

OSU Could Cinch Title This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State, after its stunning 109-81 triumph at Illinois Monday night, may stow away the Big Ten basketball title this week.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes could clinch the title Saturday by defeating Michigan State if Indiana should fall at Iowa. Indiana (6-3) remained in the running with an 86-69 triumph over Michigan (0-9). Minnesota (7-4) nipped Purdue (5-5), 71-69 to take third place. Wisconsin finally won its first conference game after eight defeats. A 63-58 decision over eighth-place Iowa (4-6).

Columbus Gas Fumes Kill Pedro Man, 62

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes from an improperly vented gas heater caused the death here Monday of Charles E. Morris, 62, of Pedro in Lawrence County. The victim died at the home of his son, Charles, 26, whom he had been visiting. The son's wife told authorities that neither she, her husband nor their three small children had noticed any ill effects from the gas.

Afghanistan, buffer nation between Soviet Russia and Pakistan, has a population of about 12 million.

OU Now Holds 1st Place in Mid-Am Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio University's Bearcats took undisputed possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference Monday night with a 71-67 victory over Toledo.

In other games, Xavier, its eye on an NIT bid, upped its record to 16-6 with a 79-75 victory over Marquette; Tennessee State whipped Youngstown for the second time this season, 94-71; Able Mast sank 34 points to lead Bluffton to an 86-73 win over Goshen (Ind.), and Vincennes (Ind.) swamped Wilverforce 104-82.

Ohio U., with a 9-1 Mid-American record (its only loss was to Toledo), avenged that defeat by breaking the Rockets' eight-game winning skein. Toledo now has an 8-2 conference mark, and each team has only two loop games left to play.

The 12th-ranked Rockets held as much as a nine-point lead in the first half, but the Bobcats (ranked 18th) came back to tie it 37-all at intermission.

In the second half, Ohio U. broke away to eight-point leads three times, but Toledo tied the score four times. The Bobcats went ahead for keeps at 66-65 on a foul shot.

Xavier's Musketeers had a hot first half as they continued their late season drive for a post-season tourney spot. They led 44-26 at halftime and refused to surrender the lead to Marquette's late comeback. The Musketeers have now rolled over such formidable foes as Portland, Louisville, Western Kentucky, Detroit and Marquette in succession in their surge—most of it accomplished since ineligible cost them their captain and two other players.

Deadeye Trio Powers OSU Toward Crown

Buckeyes Hand Illini 109-81 Rout, May Win U.S. Championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Triggered by a deadeye trio of sophomores, Ohio State's Buckeyes are powering their way toward what could be the first unbeaten season in Big Ten college basketball in 17 years.

The hunch is there could be a national championship at the end of the drive.

Fourth-rated nationally, Ohio State fired its 10th straight Big Ten victory, its 11th straight success and an over-all 18-2 record Monday night with a 109-81 rout of formidable Illinois (13-5). It was the first time an Ohio State team had managed to beat the Illini a Illinois since 1945 and again it was the three sophomores — 6-8 Jerry Lucas, 6-5 John Havlicek, and 6-2 Mel Nowell — who carried the brunt of the attack.

Lucas scored 31 points, Havlicek 29 and Nowell 17, accounting for 77 of the total that helped the Bucks retain their pace as the top scoring major college team.

With a 10-0 record to 6-3 for runner-up Indiana, Ohio State has all but wrapped up its first conference championship since 1950 and the subsequent berth in the post-season NCAA tournament.

Colorado and Kansas State, in a pair of squeakers, remained tied for the Big Eight Conference lead, Auburn stayed on Georgia Tech's heels in the torrid Southeastern Conference race, and Ohio U. whipped Toledo 71-67 to take undisputed first place in the Mid-American loop in other key Monday games.

St. John's of New York, expected to be added to the National Invitation Tournament field today, ran its winning streak to nine for a 15-3 record by pasting CCNY 93-67, and Xavier of Ohio (16-6), with an outside tournament chance, cuffed Marquette 79-75 in important non-conference play.

Colorado nipped Missouri 63-62 for a 7-2 Big Eight record matching Kansas State, which edged Iowa State 72-70 on Wally Frank's basket with 25 seconds left. Kansas stayed in Big Eight contention, rolling to a 6-3 record as Wayne Hightower's free-throw after the final buzzer gave the Jayhawks' a 54-53 victory over Oklahoma.

Auburn edged Tulane in overtime 53-51 for a 9-2 SEC record to 9-1 for idle Georgia Tech, while Mississippi State downed Florida 81-75, LSU spilled Alabama 66-53, and Mississippi nipped Georgia 65-63 in overtime in other SEC games.

OSU Could Cinch Title This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State, after its stunning 109-81 triumph at Illinois Monday night, may stow away the Big Ten basketball title this week.

Coach Fred Taylor's Buckeyes could clinch the title Saturday by defeating Michigan State if Indiana should fall at Iowa, Indiana (6-3) remained in the running with an 86-69 triumph over Michigan (0-9).

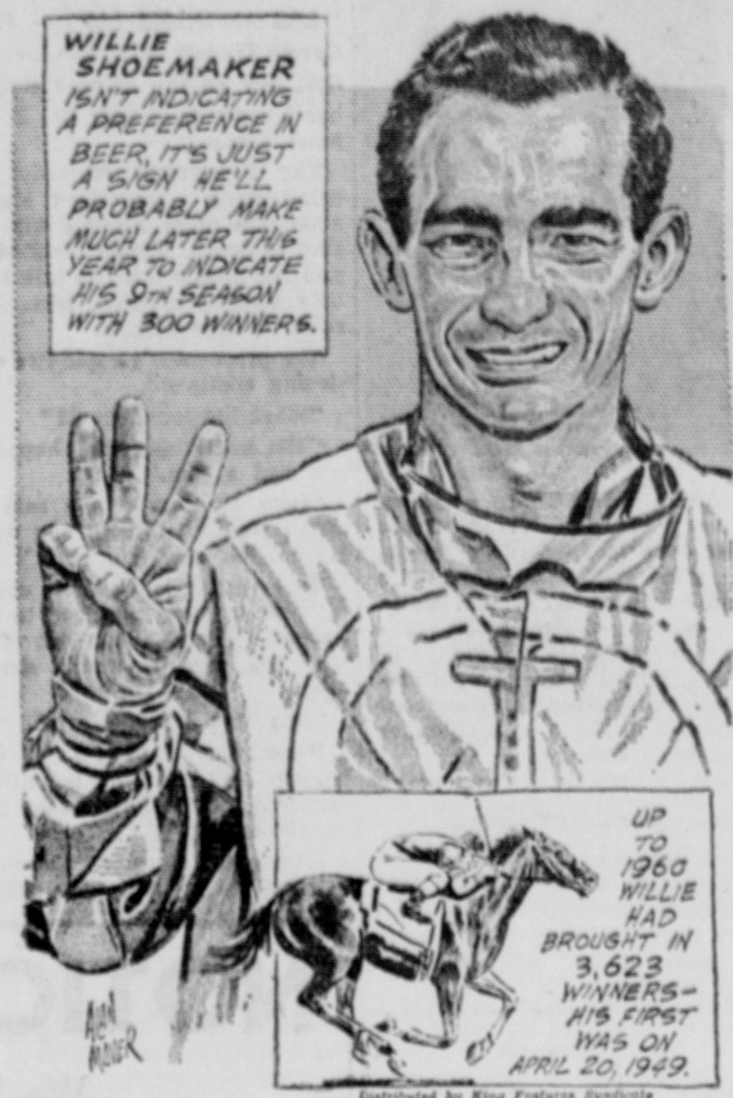

Minnesota (7-4) nipped Purdue (5-5), 71-69 to take third place. Wisconsin finally won its first conference game after eight defeats. A 63-58 decision over eighth-place Iowa (4-6).

Columbus Gas Fumes Kill Pedro Man, 62

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes from an improperly vented gas heater caused the death here Monday of Charles E. Morris, 62, of Pedro in Lawrence County. ## U.S. Woman Shuns Reunion With Korean

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS, Fla. (AP)—A bank secretary says she has no intention of returning to her Korean husband who turned up last week after dropping from sight in 1939.

And, added Mrs. Gordon Sherman, the Korean professor's present wife shouldn't have agreed to a divorce to make the reconciliation easier.

Mrs. Sherman has since remarried, but a divorce is pending against her second husband.

War tensions were mounting when John D. King, now 55, and his wife decided to separate. They were both teaching in Tokyo to support their family while they did independent missionary work.

King as an Oriental could not come to the United States, so it was decided that his wife should leave with the four children.

They lost track of each other until King asked the Red Cross to try to trace his family. Last week one of the children, Clarence King, 25, was found in Cincinnati, where he is a television station film editor. Mrs. Sherman learned from newsmen Friday that King is alive.

When told about King's possible divorce Mrs. Sherman said: "That's too bad. That leaves him with nobody. I have no intention of taking up our life together. I have no plans to go anywhere or make any changes from living here."

Mom Drops Charges in Runaway Case

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The mother of a 17-year-old runaway heiress today dropped larceny charges against her daughter and the delicatessen clerk with whom the daughter eloped last summer.

"She wants to give them a chance to work this thing out by themselves," said Phillip Straffin, attorney for the mother, Mrs. Rokneddin Kadjar.

At an extradition hearing for Roberta (Ronni) Orr Brady, from Southampton, N.Y., and her husband, Albert Edward Brady, the attorney said the charges were filed months ago, when Mrs. Kadjar was "very upset."

Ronnie, who expects a baby in July, had been charged with taking $3,400 in cash and checks from her mother's home to finance her honeymoon with Brady, a 26-year-old $85-a-week clerk in a delicatessen store. Brady is charged with abduction.

Peace Justice Mal Englander postponed the hearing until Friday to give New York authorities time to decide whether they are willing to let the matter drop.

Brady has been married once before — maybe twice — and is wanted in Houston, Tex., on an auto theft charge.

Carole Weeps in Testimony At Finch Murder Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pretty Carole Tregoff burst into tears her first day on the witness stand at her murder trial with Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

The 23-year-old ex-model was being cross-examined Monday about the night Finch's wife was shot to death. Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce. Mrs. Finch refused, said Carole.

The prosecutor's rapid-fire questioning continued.

"What happened next?"

"The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes.

"Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried.

Prosecutor Clifford Crail snapped: "I have no intention to examine this witness under these conditions..."

Interrupted Carole: "I'm okay." Dabbling at her eyes with a handkerchief, she continued. The state has charged she and Dr. Finch plotted to kill the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, so they could marry without losing part of the doctor's wealth in a divorce court.

Atty. Robert A. Neeb Jr. asked Miss Tregoff: "Did you, on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

The defendant answered, her voice low: "Absolutely not."

Neeb asked her only eleven questions, quizzing her about the main part of the state's case against her: that she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and when this failed, they went from Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

Carole denied all the state's allegations.

Then, for more than an hour Carole faced Crail's cross-examination. He fired his questions so fast defense attorneys complained the witness wasn't being given a chance to complete some answers.

When Baby's Born Teeth Are Formed

This is the second in a series of six articles prepared by the Pickaway County Dental Society. They are presented to further interest in better dental health in the community. Preparation of the articles evolved from study sessions, oral surgery and other child health problems.

When a baby is born, we usually think of him as being without teeth. Deep in his jawbones, however, are twenty deciduous, primary teeth which began to form early in prenatal life.

At birth the crowns of the deciduous teeth are almost completely formed. Shortly after birth, the enamel of the first permanent, six-year molars begins to form.

The earliest teeth to appear, erupt, are the central incisors in the front of the mouth. They usually erupt between the sixth and eighth months after birth.

The time of eruption on the central incisors, as of all the deciduous and permanent teeth, may vary. The teeth in the lower jaw usually appear before the corresponding teeth in the upper jaw.

IF GIVEN proper care, the deciduous teeth should remain in place until the permanent teeth are ready to come in.

The eruption of teeth usually is not accompanied by any disturbance. Some children, however, may be irritable at teething time. If any illness appears to be associated with the eruption of teeth, a physician should be consulted.

Thum-sucking during the first year or two of a child's life need not cause any concern. Any irregularity in the position of teeth that is directly due to sucking habits will probably correct itself if it occurs before the age of five.

But when continued beyond the age of five, thumb or finger sucking may affect the position of the incoming permanent teeth and the shape of the jaws.

The slight pressure exerted in thumbsucking may force the teeth out of position and narrow the dental arches, making eventual orthodontic treatment necessary to restore natural function and appearance.

Fluoride added to water supplies will curb tooth decay. For about a dime a year per person you can add fluoride to your community water supply and bring younger children the benefits of 65 per cent less tooth decay.

CHILDREN under one year of age will receive the full benefits of fluoride-bearing water. Children who are older when fluoride is added to the water will receive substantial protection against tooth decay, but not as much as the younger children. The protection continues throughout life.

By adding fluoride to your community water supply you reduce future dental bills for filling teeth and cut bills for extractions and replacements. The cost of a single filling will pay for the fluoride for one person for about 30 years.

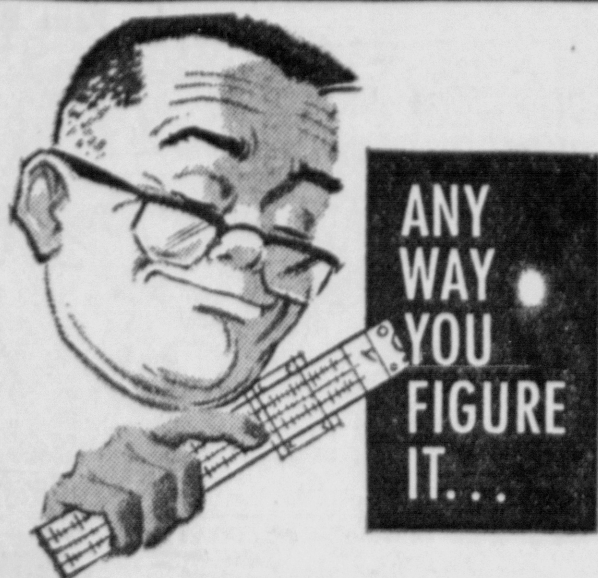

Already many cities are adding fluoride to their water supplies. They use fluoride in the form of sodium fluoride or sodium silico-fluoride. Both of these chemicals are fed into the water by mechanical feeders.

You won't notice any difference between water containing fluoride and your present water. You can't see, taste or smell the fluoride. It doesn't add hardness and doesn't affect the way soap acts.

Little fluoride is added to the water. In an average town of 10,000 persons, for example, only 14 pounds of sodium silicofluoride is added daily to the water. That much costs about 85 cents.

When you have fluoridated water you can drink away tomorrow's tooth decay.

U.S. Woman Shuns Reunion With Korean

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS, Fla. (AP)—A bank secretary says she has no intention of returning to her Korean husband who turned up last week after dropping from sight in 1939.

And, added Mrs. Gordon Sherman, the Korean professor's present wife shouldn't have agreed to a divorce to make the reconciliation easier.

Mrs. Sherman has since remarried, but a divorce is pending against her second husband.

War tensions were mounting when John D. King, now 55, and his wife decided to separate. They were both teaching in Tokyo to support their family while they did independent missionary work.

King as an Oriental could not come to the United States, so it was decided that his wife should leave with the four children.

They lost track of each other until King asked the Red Cross to try to trace his family. Last week one of the children, Clarence King, 25, was found in Cincinnati, where he is a television station film editor. Mrs. Sherman learned from newsmen Friday that King is alive.

When told about King's possible divorce Mrs. Sherman said: "That's too bad. That leaves him with nobody. I have no intention of taking up our life together. I have no plans to go anywhere or make any changes from living here."

Mom Drops Charges in Runaway Case

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The mother of a 17-year-old runaway heiress today dropped larceny charges against her daughter and the delicatessen clerk with whom the daughter eloped last summer.

"She wants to give them a chance to work this thing out by themselves," said Phillip Strafflin, attorney for the mother, Mrs. Rokneddin Kadjar.

At an extradition hearing for Roberta (Ronni) Orr Brady, from Southampton, N.Y., and her husband, Albert Edward Brady, the attorney said the charges were filed months ago, when Mrs. Kadjar was "very upset."

Ronnie, who expects a baby in July, had been charged with taking $3,400 in cash and checks from her mother's home to finance her honeymoon with Brady, a 26-year-old $85-a-week clerk in a delicatessen store. Brady is charged with abduction.

Peace Justice Mai Englander postponed the hearing until Friday to give New York authorities time to decide whether they are willing to let the matter drop.

Brady has been married once before — maybe twice — and is wanted in Houston, Tex., on an auto theft charge.

Carole Weeps in Testimony At Finch Murder Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pretty Carole Tregoff burst into tears her first day on the witness stand at her murder trial with Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

The 23-year-old ex-model was being cross-examined Monday about the night Finch's wife was shot to death. Carole testified she and the doctor tried to talk to his wife about a divorce. Mrs. Finch refused, said Carole.

The prosecutor's rapid-fire questioning continued.

"What happened next?" "The next thing that happened, she had a gun."

"How long after she said she didn't want to talk to you was it before you saw this gun?"

Tears came to Carole's eyes. "Just in time for her to turn around, take the gun out of the car and turn around," she replied.

Then Miss Tregoff cried. Prosecutor Clifford Crail snapped: "I have no intention to examine this witness under these conditions..."

Interrupted Carole: "I'm okay." Dabbling at her eyes with a handkerchief, she continued. The state has charged she and Dr. Finch plotted to kill the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, so they could marry without losing part of the doctor's wealth in a divorce court.

Atty. Robert A. Neeb Jr. asked Miss Tregoff: "Did you, on or about July 18, 1959, kill Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch?"

The defendant answered, her voice low: "Absolutely not."

Neeb asked her only eleven questions, quizzing her about the main part of the state's case against her: that she and the doctor tried to hire an underworld character to kill Mrs. Finch, and, when this failed, they went from Las Vegas, Nev., where she was staying, to the Finch home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, to kill the woman.

Carole denied all the state's allegations.

Then, for more than an hour Carole faced Crail's cross-examination. He fired his questions so fast defense attorneys complained the witness wasn't being given a chance to complete some answers.
